- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the affixing means that restrains the cover at any position (claim 15) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

The claim recites that the biasing means is “permanently” attached with one of adhesive and welding and then recites that a sheath, which is disclosed as a “releasable” attachment means. This is not understood and/or is not disclosed.

Claims 1,14,15,18,19,21 and 26-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1,21,26 and 28 recite alternative attachment means in paragraphs a-d and then further define the sheath. However, the sheath was only one of the four choices in a-d. It is confusing as to in which embodiments the sheath may be used.

In claim 28, there is no antecedent basis for “the sheath”.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,14,18,21,26 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by McVicker.

See material 26 and constant force spring 32. The spring is held within a sheath formed of the flexible material and from which the spring may be removed. See affixing means and means for securing the cover to a structure 42,44.

Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Kim.

Kim is similar to McVicker and comparable elements are similarly applied against the claims. Since the layers of the cover are inherently adhesively bonded, such adhesive maintains the spring on the cover. See means for mounting the cover to the structure, 23,23,,27.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McVicker in view of Crider et al.

Providing a continuous affixing means for a roll-up cover is well known as taught by Crider et al and it would have been obvious to modify McVicker to have such means so as to more effectively attach his device and/or to cover up only half the window.

Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McVicker in view of Eckels.

Eckels is applied as Crider et al, above, but shows magnetic attachment means.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant has added the limitation regarding the means for securing the cover to the structure. However, as pointed out above, such a feature is anticipated by the previously and presently applied references.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
